OAKCREST
HIGH SCHOOL

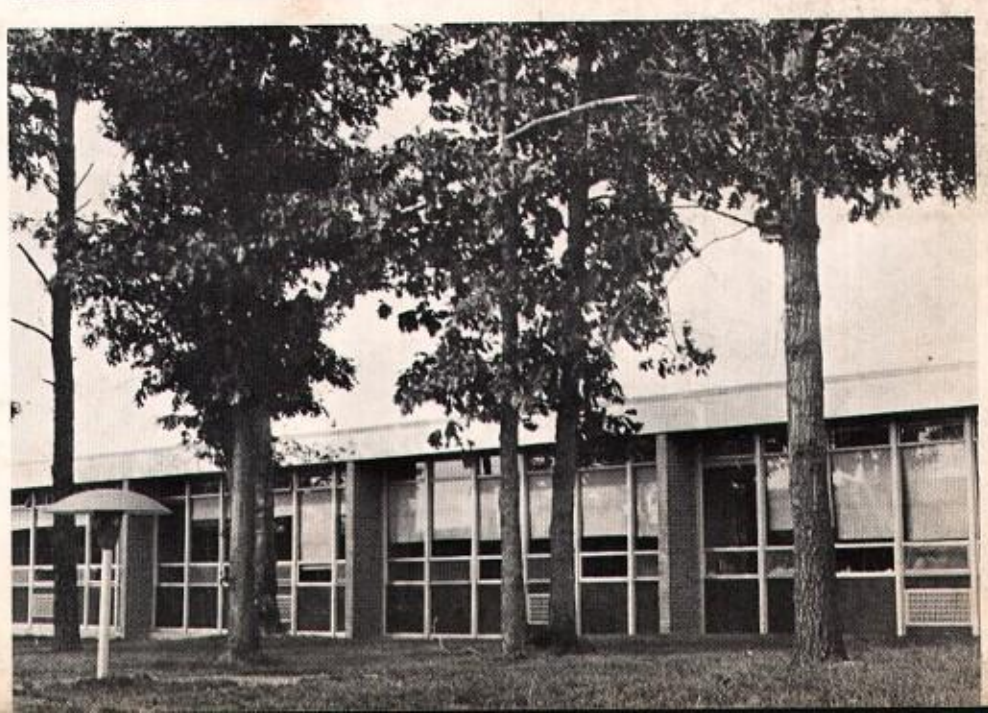
introduction

The construction is finished. The earth is quiet. The time of our challenge has come: the challenge to uphold the promise of the new physical plant. This year has been one of realization and utilization of that growth which has been accomplished in our school.

When we entered Oakcrest, our school was suffering "growing pains." Since then Oakcrest has been growing and changing. This is good, for these times are changing also—changing not only technologically, but also socially. Now, we and Oakcrest are a few years older, but also newer: we, newer in ideas and outlooks; Oakcrest, newer in facilities and policies. Both have been searching for the future, both have been successful.

This success is, however, just beginning. We must be prepared and willing to change and grow after we leave these familiar halls. The fruition of all of the effort of our high school years will not come now with the diploma but later with our contributions to society.

This year's Crest has attempted to present the last, though not final, chapter in this saga of Oakcrest as we, the class of Zeta '66, meet the "Challenge of Change."



dedication

Excellence is a word that has been misused so often that it has become a cliche. We can, however, use it in your case with great confidence. Your classes are noted for warmth and interest. Your ready wit has brightened many a dreary day. Your devotion to your students and to those others who are privileged enough to work with you is remarkable. For these and many other reasons, to you, Miss Ruth Osborn, we dedicate the 1965-1966 Crest.

board of education

The Board of Education has been in large measure responsible for the great changes which have occurred in Oakcrest. These men have helped to make Oakcrest the best school in South Jersey. We owe them all a sincere vote of gratitude for the amount of effort they have expended on our behalf.

As Oakcrest adds another year to its growing tradition and adds another graduating class to its history, we ask you never to lose sight of the goals and ambitions we hope your Alma Mater has engendered in your thinking.

We must wish to achieve before actually doing so, and having dreamed then face the hard reality of life and the obstacles it presents in accomplishing those goals.

We hope Oakcrest has helped you aspire and also helped in your development of mind, body and spirit.

This has been our dream for you and you have made it for us, reality!

Mr. John N. Falzetta

Mr. Arthur R. Neumann

Position: Principal

May I extend my best wishes to the class of 1966. When this yearbook is placed in your hands, your days at Oakcrest will be drawing to an end. The entire staff at Oakcrest has been striving to prepare you for this moment, hoping that you will be ready—ready to step out and take your place in the world of today. It is the staff's hope that you will carry away many fond memories of Oakcrest, and that you will come back and visit it often.

Someone once defined a leader as "one who influences another." In this sense I hope that all of you will be leaders—constructive leaders—holding always in your hearts these words of wisdom. "The worth of a leader is . . . measured . . . by the difference he makes in human life."

Arthur R. Neumann

Mr. Anthony J. Panarelle
B.S., M.Ed.
Trenton State College, Temple University, University of Maryland
Position: Vice-Principal

As you prepare to leave Oakcrest and enter into a most challenging world of tomorrow, let us always remember the greatness of the high quality education you have received and the many special and fond memories you have created for yourselves.

Let us always reflect on the wealth of knowledge we have obtained, the personal-spiritual values that have become ours and the belief we have tried our best to be a part of a wonderful school which has had so much to offer.

To the Class of 1966, we wish for you the beginning of a most active, successful and happy life in a world which may bring to you only the very best of everything.

Fellow Seniors,

The time has finally come to leave a school which has embedded experiences and emotions in our memories which will be cherished by all of us. Our four years at Oakcrest have given us enjoyment and sorrow, knowledge and ability, plus the satisfaction of achievement.

It seems like such a short time ago that we were the plebes of the freshmen class who used to look up to the seniors. One might say that we were envious in thinking how lucky the seniors were to be on the last leg of their journey—how they were the "king-pins" of the school and thought they could take it easy. Many of us, I'm sure, believed that this year would be easy; but we have discovered it was difficult indeed. The time seemed to rush by quickly for some of us and drag for others; nevertheless, we the members of Zeta '66 are on the threshold of the future. What the future will bring is unpredictable. However, I hope that years from now, you will remember your high school days and be proud, very proud, of your class, Zeta '66, and what it meant to you.

Good luck and best wishes
in the years ahead,
Greg Lister

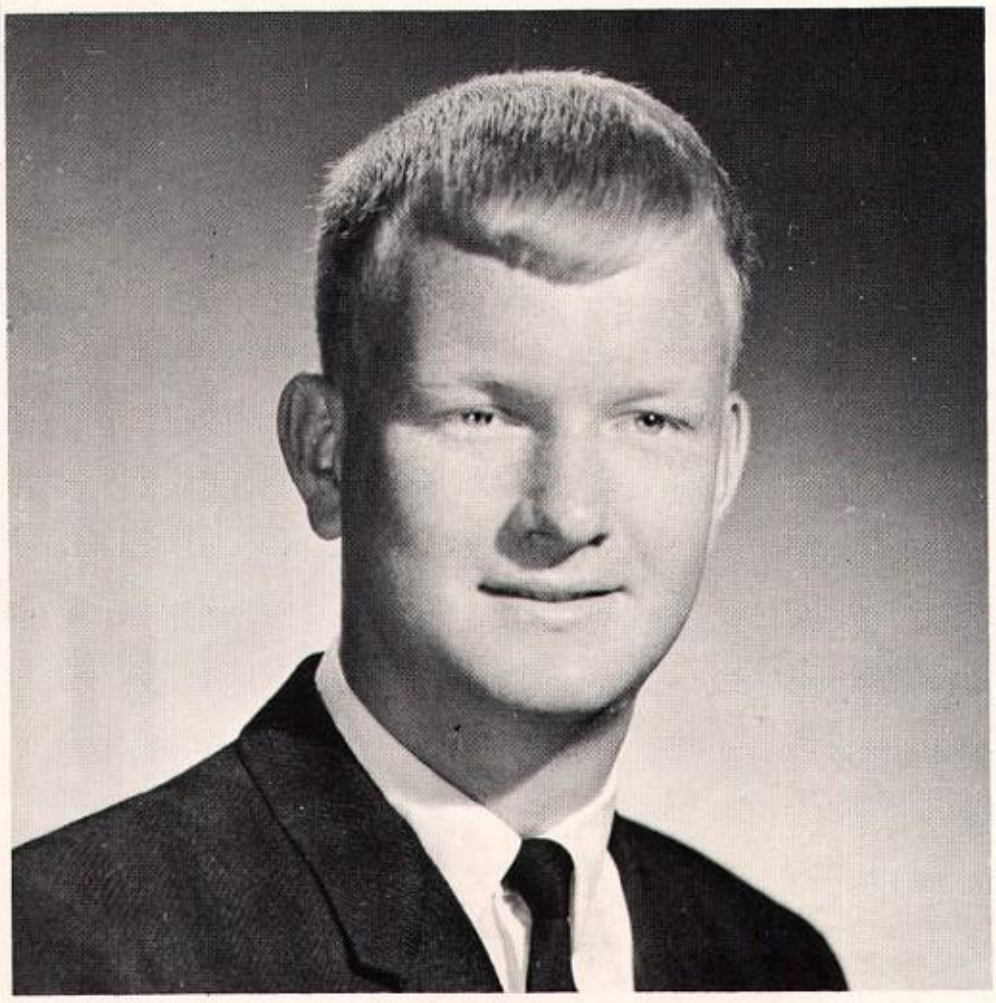
in memoriam



JAMES ROBERT WORRELL

James Robert Worrell's quiet courage should be an example for all of us to emulate. Though racked with pain and knowing that he had but a few short months to live, he remained quiet and cheerful with a smile for everyone.

Jimmy had a great love of life. He enjoyed a varied life which included several sports and deep devotion to his church. This zeal to live was expressed through his exceptional endurance throughout his losing bout with nephritis, the disease which claimed his life on October 24, 1965.

On graduation day, we will have you, Jimmy, in our hearts and minds, remembering you as a fellow Zeta.

ARCHIE L. RIDDICK

The senior class regrets the loss of its member, Archie L. Riddick in that tragic accident on Thanksgiving Day, November 25, 1965.

Archie was born on December 16, 1947, in Mizpah, New Jersey, and remained a resident there until the accidental shooting caused his death. He attended Mays Landing school and was a member of the eighth grade graduating class of 1962.

He entered Oakcrest High School the following September and was a student in the Industrial Arts program. He was especially interested in mechanics and had hopes of becoming an automobile mechanic after his graduation.

Archie was well liked and is sadly missed by all who knew him. He was proud to be a member of our student body and at heart was a true Oakcrest student.

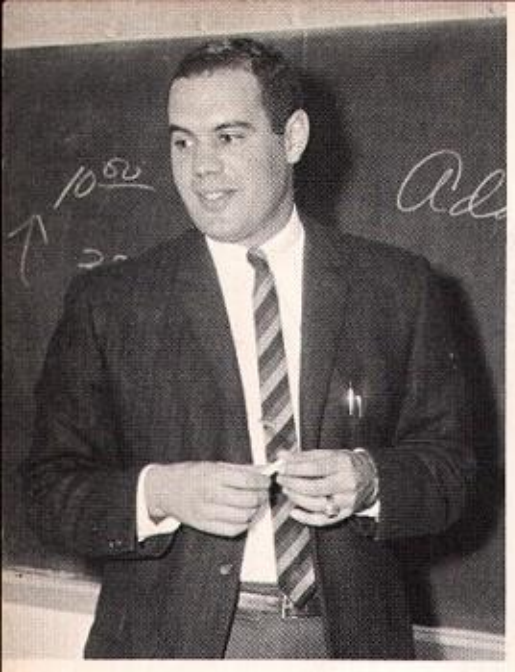
underclassmen



Mr. William Sagan
Junior Class Advisor

The keynote for the underclassmen is growth and learning. They must strive to understand the world around them—to have empathy with the other members of our society. They have made remarkable progress during their stay at Oakcrest, but still they have much to do and much to experience before they are prepared to take up the challenge that is the future.

activities

Man does not live by bread alone; nor does the student learn by books alone. The secluded high school student is missing a vital part of his education—a knowledge of human relations. Oakcrest's clubs are places where individuals can learn cooperation toward common goals: enlightenment, service, or just plain fun.

student council

Student Council, under the supervision of Mr. Fineran, is the backbone of the Oakcrest student body. The Student Council officers, with the help of the homeroom representatives and volunteers, plan and direct activities for the entire year. The most important purpose of Student Council is to promote school spirit, encourage leadership, and develop character. The most important activities of this year have been the Keep-Your-School-Clean campaign and the annual spring talent show.

Mr. John Fineran
Student Council Advisor

national honor society

Mrs. Lewise Hill
Advisor

Membership in the National Honor Society is the highest honor a high school student can receive. Students who have exemplified outstanding scholarship, leadership, character, and service are awarded this distinction.

The Society actively supports the Student Exchange Program. This year one of its own members, Jack Hamilton, was chosen to represent Oakcrest in Westercelle, Germany.

key club

Mr. Martin Sharp
Director of Oakcrest Key Clubs

Key Club, sponsored by the local Kiwanis Clubs, is a boys' organization with two basic purposes: service to the school and community and development of character in the participant. With a continually widening scope of activities that range from Scholarship Fund to Flag-Raising Ceremonies, the Key Club is always prepared to serve.

photography club

Through the Photography Club interested students may learn about proper use of camera equipment, darkroom techniques, lighting, composition, and posing of subjects. Members provide photographs of Oakcrest activities to be used for publicity purposes. In time the facilities of the club will be able to handle almost all photographic assignments within the school.

audio-visual aides

The purpose of this club is to stimulate interest and use of audio-visual equipment by both students and teachers. Members are trained in the maintenance, repair, and operation of the equipment. Career opportunities in related fields are also explored.

This organization gives students an opportunity to help maintain the type of decorum and atmosphere which the school and students feel is best for a lunch area at Oakcrest. They assist as well in aiding the flow of students to and from the cafeteria.

assembly committee

This committee is responsible for the development of an assembly schedule for the current year and the succeeding year. Its membership arranges for the greeting of guest speakers and performers, for the introduction and acknowledgment of programs, and for any preparations deemed necessary for a successful schedule of assembly programs.

The purpose of the Falconetts is to promote school spirit at games and other activities. The group is the center of the cheering section and gives continued support to the cheerleaders. The club is active during both football and basketball seasons. The girls may be distinguished by their blue and gray outfits and the Falconett's pin. This year the club sponsored the first annual Homecoming Queen Contest which added color and excitement to the Thanksgiving Day football game.

This year the Hall Patrol is sponsored by Student Council. The members of this group stand at key intersections for the purpose of allowing the students to move from class to class in a minimum of time. Many a traffic jam has been averted because of the efficiency of this organization.

school store

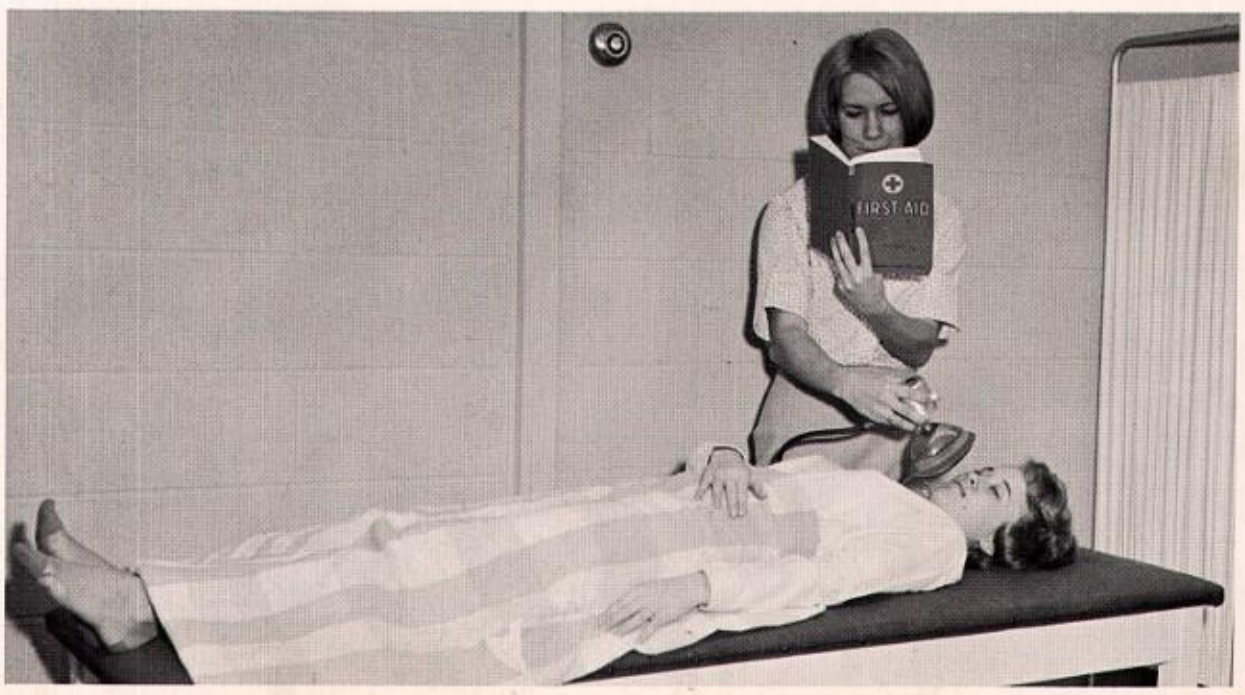
The workers in the school store give a vital service to the students of Oakcrest High School. They provide paper goods, gym suits, jackets, and other school supplies for reasonable prices. The girls gain valuable experience in retailing, business practices, and salesmanship.

future nurses and health careers club

This organization brings together students who are interested in careers in nursing and various health fields. The members have an opportunity to share their interests and to explore the many possibilities in the field of health by visiting medical centers, seeing films, and listening to guest speakers.

Seated, from left: Bill Sistler, Fred Nickles, Miss Marzo. Standing: Mrs. Schilling, Laura Leeds, Darla Marzo, Peggy Reed.



I think this is where it goes.

spanish club

This club is for students taking Spanish II and III, who are interested in Hispanic culture. The club gives its members the opportunity for additional practice in Spanish, and considers such topics as Spanish art, music, travel, and current events.

The goal of this club is to better familiarize its members with the spirit that is French: the language, the culture, the people. This is done through informal meetings, speakers, films, and any pertinent trips.

german club

This club endeavors to enhance the work of the classroom and to broaden the student's knowledge of the customs and culture of Germany. Various activities are pursued, such as corresponding with the partner school in Westercelle, giving programs with the German band, making German advent wreaths, and inviting foreigners to speak to the club.

library aides

A library aide is an indispensable part of the library. Among his tedious duties are looking up forgotten library numbers, helping a student find books, and solving innumerable other problems. With the help of the library aide, the business of the library is carried on efficiently throughout the year.

transportation aides

Transportation Aides is mainly a service committee which is composed of ten girls. The duties of these girls consist of arranging transportation for new students, plotting bus routes, and handling other problems of the transportation department.

i.b.m. aides

The I.B.M. Aides are chosen to assist with the I.B.M. program in the school system and to get a basic knowledge of the operations of the various machines used. Since most large corporations and educational institutions use computing and data processing machines, this field is rapidly gaining importance and any experience gained is a step up the ladder for those interested.

office aides

This is an activity limited to students who assist the regular office personnel. They are given additional training in telephone courtesy and office procedures. The importance of good grooming habits are stressed.

banking club

The Banking Club is an organization that provides services for the student body. In the future the club plans to organize a team of bankers to help the students of Oakcrest by maintaining and familiarizing them with their own special accounts.

student personnel aides

The Student Personnel Aides is a group of students who work as typists, messengers, and in innumerable other capacities to help the guidance counselors and secretaries. The experience gained through the various duties performed is helpful to any girl or boy who is interested in office work.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Walters
Drama Club Advisors

dramatics

In an age in which the professional production of plays is greatly centralized, there is a great need for quality performances on the local level. The Oakcrest Drama Club does its part to supply that need. The members of this club not only benefit others but also gain themselves: they improve their acting abilities and learn to cooperate to achieve major goals.

public speaking and debate club

The Oakcrest Public Speaking and Debate Club offers the principles of debate, discussion, public speaking, radio, and television. These means of expression are becoming of increasing importance in this world dominated by the mass media. The club is designed to provide significant speaking experiences for high school students and considers many different approaches in the scope of its program.

psychology - sociology club

The Psychology-Sociology Club is designed to encourage interest in the broad areas of psychology, sociology, and mental health. By sponsoring guest speakers, through field trips, and by individual and group projects, a greater and more active interest in psychological and sociological problems is developed. An understanding and improvement of mental health is also encouraged.

The students may select the phase of drafting that interests them from such areas as electrical, sheet metal pattern, machine, or architectural drafting.

choral groups

Music has long been one of man's favorite forms of expression. The Oakcrest choral groups carry on this noble tradition with ability and emotion. The highlights of the year for our vocal organizations are the Christmas Concert and the Spring Concert. The Choraliers, an all-purpose singing group, performs for many school programs and represents Oakcrest at various concerts and civic functions. The Madrigal Singers sing on occasions when a small group is appropriate. The Modern Choir specializes in popular music. The light repertoire of the Girls' Glee Club is presented by girls who wholeheatedly enjoy singing. The performances of these choral groups have lifted the spirit of the student body and have been an especially pleasant addition to the atmosphere of Oakcrest.

The Stage Band is a very select group of musicians interested in jazz and popular music. The members work hard after school to learn a repertoire of up-to-date compositions to include in the concert program.

During football season the Marching Band is busy preparing precision drills for pre-game and half-time shows. Dressed in blue and gray, the band presents a striking appearance and helps to keep school spirit high. Under the leadership of Ava Fazekas, Drum Majorette, the band snaps through its formations for the spectators. It also represents Oakcrest by participating in many parades in nearby communities. The Marching Band was awarded trophies this year for its outstanding performances in the Collingswood Festival of Bands and at Glassboro State College Band Field Day.

This year's Concert Band is the largest band Oakcrest has ever had. Stirring music can be heard echoing throughout the school whenever the band, under the direction of Mr. Tobias, is rehearsing. Its aim is to learn good band literature. The band's first performance of the year is a festive Christmas Concert and its last duty is to play for Commencement. In between, it plays for many assembly programs and goes on a concert tour to other schools. The Spring Concert is one of the biggest school events of the year.

Barbara Bingham, Oakcrest's first exchange student, has spent an exciting year in Germany, but is happy to be home.

Mr. Panarelle congratulates Jack Hamilton, after the announcement that Jack was Oakcrest's current exchange student.

On July 4, 1962 the late President Kennedy made his own famous Declaration of Interdependence in which he acknowledged the close ties between the United States and the other nations of the world. Our exchange program is our memorial to a great man.

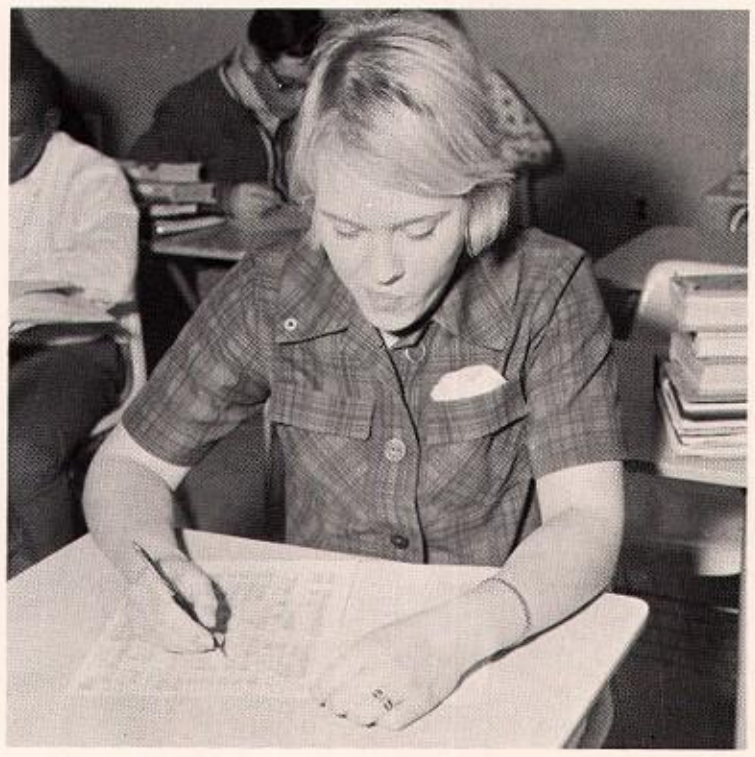
Barbara Bingham has returned to Oakcrest after a year in Westercelle, Germany, and has related her experiences to the entire Oakcrest student body.

This year Jack Hamilton is studying in Germany. He is enjoying his stay with a German family and is making many friends. We are proud to have him represent Oakcrest.

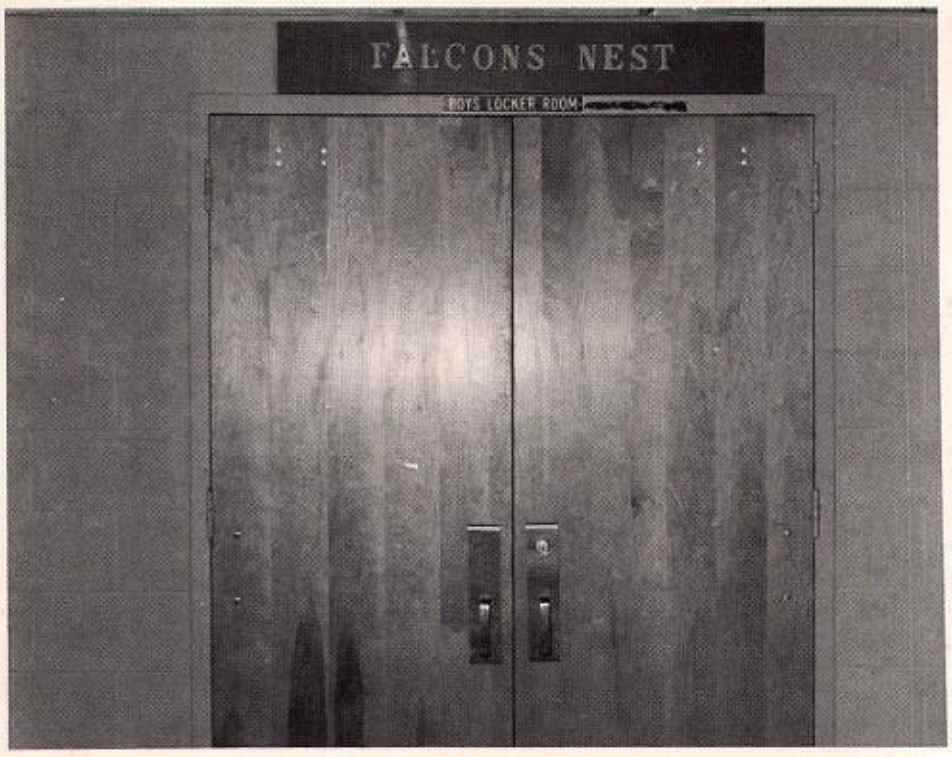
Jack's counterpart at Oakcrest is Doris Ledlein, an honor student from Realschule, Westercelle. Doris is an excellent student in America, too, and speaks English fluently. She is certainly a pleasant asset to Oakcrest as she conveys a glimpse of the German way of life.

Mitsuko Konishi, our student from Japan, is spending her second year at Oakcrest. She will graduate as a member of Zeta '66. Everyone who knows Miko will always remember her friendliness and her charm.

Doris has acquired the habit of walking to class with a pile of books—just like the rest of us.



Doris always works diligently in her history class.



One never knows what happens behind closed doors.

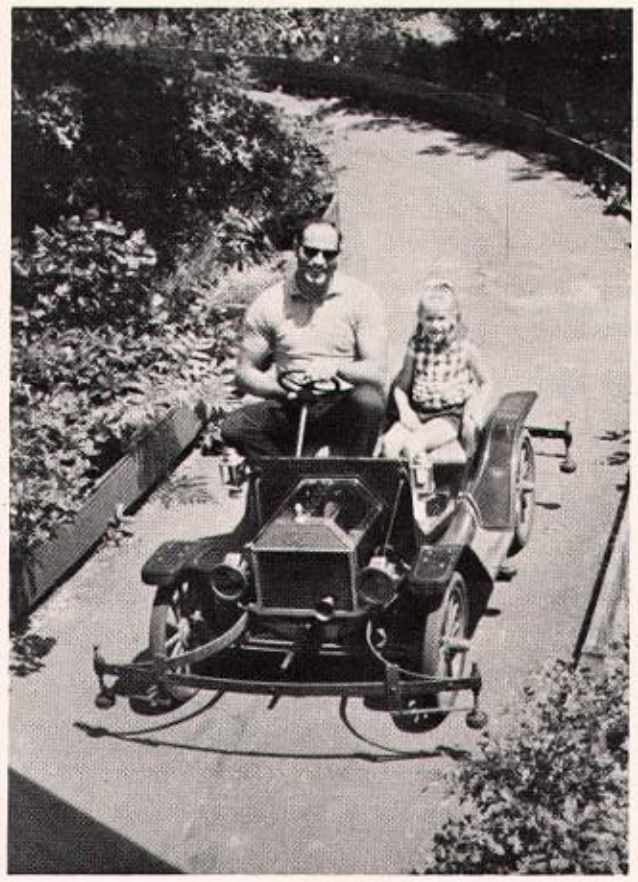
You say it's ticking?!

I wouldn't peek if I were you!

This is quite a turnout for a chess match.

Just two more weeks and I graduate to garter snakes!

No, Mr. Tobias, everything's fine!



Now pull over and make a three-point turn.

Would you believe this is how our government passes secret messages?

You're sure this is the biggest thing since Superball?

You there, singing that Beatle song . . .

These term paper files really come in handy.

The season changes; the sport changes; but the Oakcrest spirit of good sportsmanship and all-out competition remains the same. Oakcrest's cheerleaders are a symbol of that spirit. No drizzly Saturday afternoon dampens their football enthusiasm. No December snow keeps them away from basketball games.

This year, the cheerleaders led by Linda Ciabatoni, were always there, cheering the Falcons on to victory. They added color and spirit to Oakcrest athletic occasions, entertained the crowd with their precision cheers, and were a credit to the Oakcrest tradition of athletic competition.

This year's team was only 43 seconds from an undefeated season. The lone loss came at the hands of Atlantic City, a school twice our size, and that by a single point. This year's 3-5-1 record was a great turnabout from last year's 0-9 log. Although hurt by key injuries in several positions, the team achieved success through the drive and determination that marks greatness. Sparked by All-State Honorable Mention Rich Bailey (also unanimous choice for team captain), the defensive unit provided to be one of the best in South Jersey. The offense, which was equally well-trained, exhibited a balanced attack, with hard-driving Larry Portscher leading the team with 49 points.

Rich Bailey was Most Valuable Back and Greg Lister was Most Valuable Lineman. Though these and other Zetas are leaving, next year's team will have a core of returning lettermen who are sure to carry on Oakcrest's new football tradition.

This was the first year for competitive soccer at Oakcrest and, as the season progressed, the players showed great improvement under the direction of Coach Ackerman. Although not presently a varsity sport, soccer is sure to grow in importance in the coming years. With many of the team's members coming back again next year, hopes are high for better and better Oakcrest soccer teams.

Coach Harry Ackerman

Coach Ackerman oversees a soccer exercise session.

cross country

The cross country season this year was highlighted by the defeat of an arch foe, Atlantic City High, in which the Falcons took nine out of the first ten places. The team record was four wins and six losses; but with the return of many of this year's varsity runners, next year's season should bring in more Oakcrest victories.

The outstanding runner on the team was Dave Williams, who had an undefeated season. The team was capably captained by John LeCompte.

basketball

This year Oakcrest's basketball squads faced the most difficult competition in our school's history. Because of the growing number of students in the school, the team entered into Group IV competition, where it faced the teams of Camden, Pennsauken, Cherry Hill, Atlantic City, Woodrow Wilson, Vineland, Millville, and Bridgeton. They compiled a 4-6 record for their first year in this group.

This year's team was led by captain Bill Troller, a Zeta, and Bob Hackett, who joined the team later in the season. Though these players are leaving this year, the Freshman and J. V. teams show great promise for future competition.

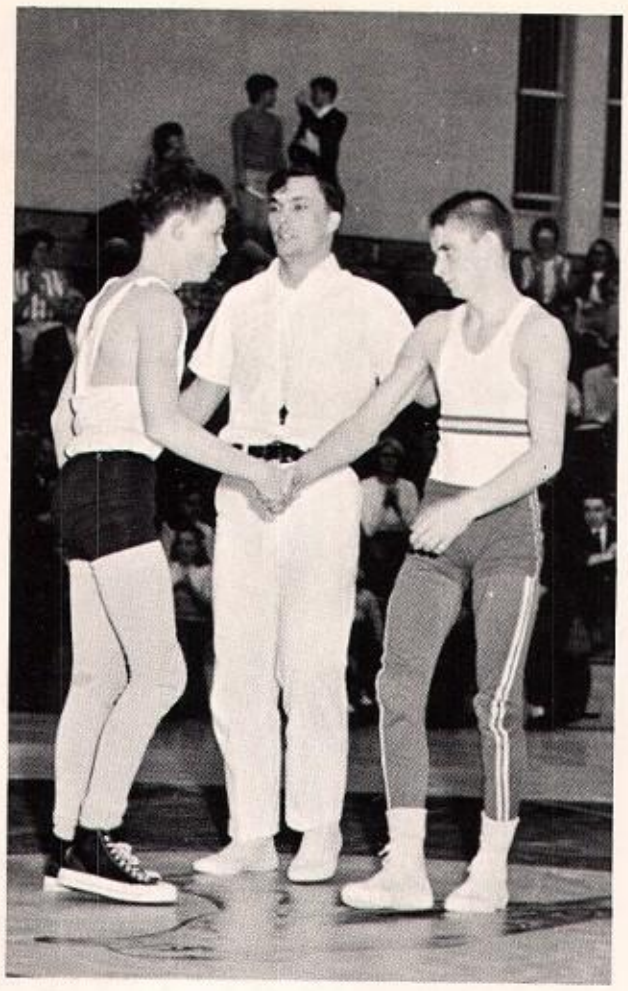
wrestling



This year Coach Art Marinelli's varsity wrestling team provided Oakcrest High School with its first district championship. The team won the District 32 crown by decisively defeating its five district foes. Eleven of the twelve wrestlers placed, with five boys winning first place laurels. These are Lou Ware, 98-pound class; John LeCompte, 115-pound class; Bill Burch, 136-pound class; Greg Lister, 141-pound class; Joe Oleinik, 178-pound class.

The team record was really an enviable one, only one defeat at the hands of Pennsville. Lou Ware and Greg Lister both finished the season without being defeated. Team co-captains were John LeCompte and Greg Lister, while Most Valuable Wrestler went to Joe Oleinik.

gymnastics

One of the most exacting of all athletic forms is gymnastics. It is an exciting and beautiful sport that demands near-perfection on the part of the competitor. Oakcrest's gymnastics program, under the direction of Mr. Ralph Platt and Mr. Robert Walker, has given each student an opportunity to participate in one of three capacities: for physical exercise, as a member of the exhibitional gymnastic team, and as a member of the men's or women's varsity competition team. Of these, the exhibitional team is most popular. It gives many demonstrations in the area, displaying skill in many fields. The climax of the year is the annual home show given at Oakcrest. In the future, Oakcrest's gymnasts are sure to continue the fine tradition which they have begun.

A firm core of players has been formed for our 1966 baseball team. With a difficult Group IV schedule lying before them, the boys are working extra hard. Most of the varsity squad has returned and a good season is anticipated. Mr. Al Hedelt, who is doing a fine job of coaching again this year, has great expectations for the team.

track

There was a large turnout this year for our fastest spring sport, track. Along with the old faithfuls who competed last year, many new students who show great promise in all the phases of track and field events are participating. Coaches Harry Ackerman, Richard Glenn, and Ralph Platt have every reason to expect a fine season.

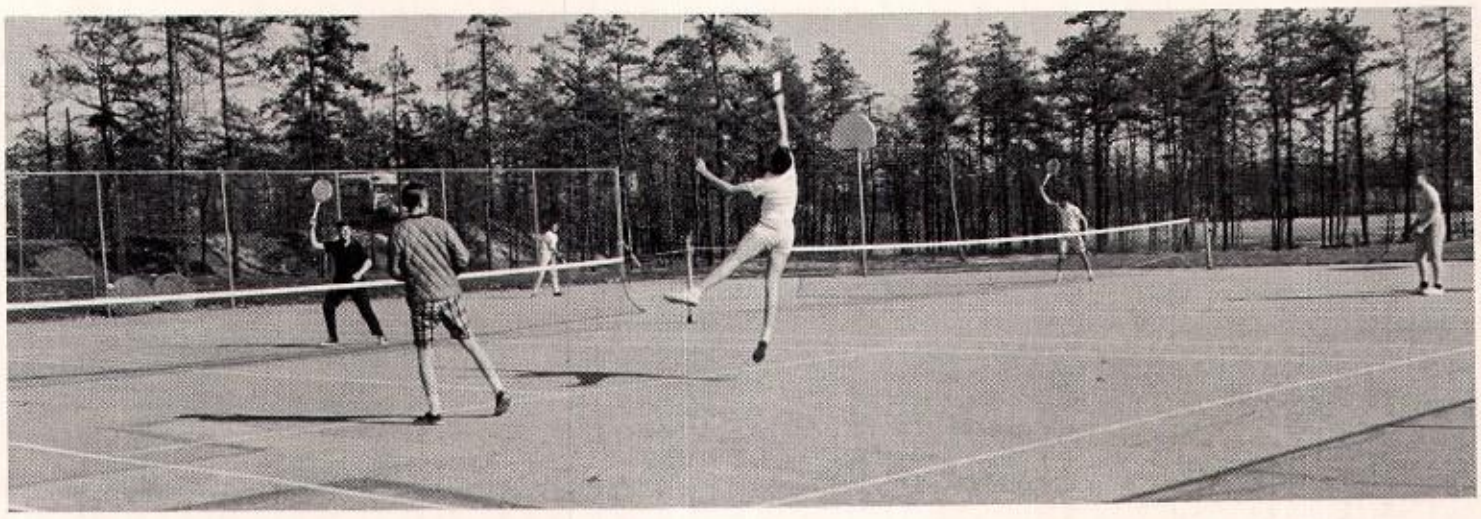
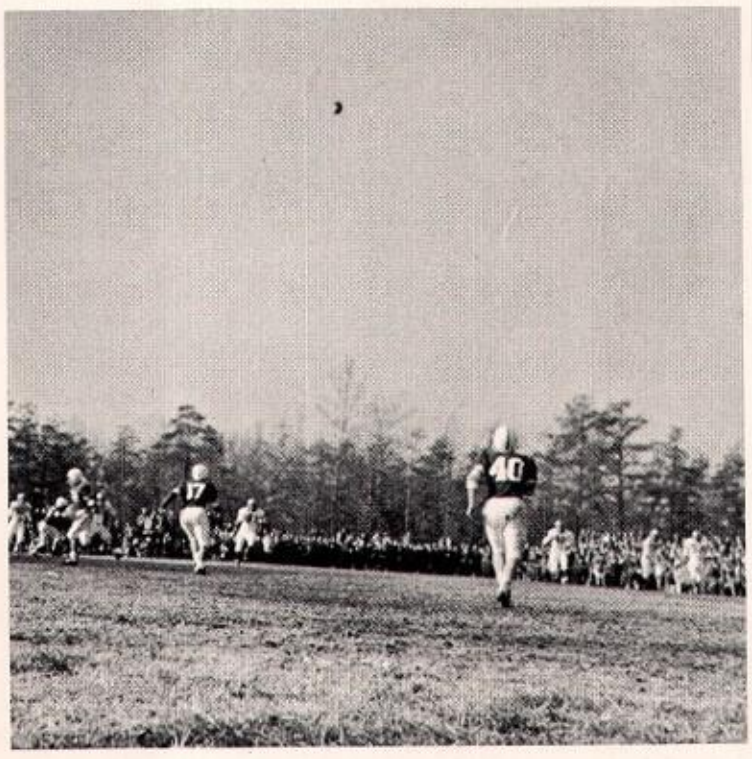
tennis

Tennis is a growing sport in this area and Oakcrest's athletic schedule reflects this growth. For the first time, tennis was treated as a varsity sport, with the team facing a full schedule against difficult competition. Mr. Joe Mohr's coaching prepared the team amply for this task.



Drat those flies!



See, I told you there are flying saucers.

Two to one, she takes the cream.

Henry W. Denmead

Mr. Denmead has been with our school since its inception in 1960. As President of the Board of Education, he has watched it grow and has given it many a needed boost when the going was rough. Now the time has come to honor this man who has done so much for Oakcrest. As a symbol of our deep appreciation to this outstanding individual, the new gymnasium addition has been dedicated to Mr. Henry W. Denmead.

Every girl at Oakcrest is a member of the Girls' Athletic Association, the focal point of all athletic activities for girls. This year the G.A.A. added new activities to its usual function of awarding points to the participants in varsity and intramural sports. It presented an assembly, "G.A.A.'s Wide World of Sports," staged a very successful mother-daughter activity night, and sponsored a scholarship fund for girls planning to major in physical education. In short, the G.A.A. endeavored to stimulate interest in girls' athletics as a means of promoting character, leadership, and friendship on the part of the participants.

modern dance

This club, under the direction of Mrs. Judith Garbutt, gives many girls the opportunity for a form of "creative expression." Interested girls learn modern dance techniques, which are later used in presenting the annual spring show.

hockey

Windy afternoon practices, five laps of the track, close games, and lots of fun . . . such are the memories of the 1965-'66 hockey team. Under the able direction of Mrs. Susan Boisvert and Mrs. Helen Bolnick, the team went on to a fine record against tough competition. With several members planning to attend hockey camp next year, it looks like future Oakcrest hockey teams will achieve even finer records.

An extensive basketball program at Oakcrest this year gave over 175 girls a chance to play this favored winter sport intramurally. It allowed the more skillful players to form an All-Star team and compete against area schools. It also gave interested girls the opportunity to get experience in officiating. All aspects of the program were quite successful, largely due to the fine organization and coaching by Miss Rackoski and the other gym teachers.

The All-Star team played a full schedule against highly ranked competition. Their record was not as spectacular as had been hoped for, but the fine overall program is expected to produce better and better girls' basketball teams.

Now is a time for tears and a time for smiles . . . a time for sadness and a time for rejoicing . . . a time to reminisce and a time to look forward . . . .

We have had many worthwhile experiences during our high school years, but now let us turn our attentions toward the future. As we move forward toward fulfilling our challenge, let us remember our school, the friends we have made here, the knowledge we have obtained, all that we have gained. Now as the time nears to begin repaying our debt, let us strive to be true to the legacy of Oakcrest.

For Best of Luck always
